ABOUT PPC LUBRICANTS

A Heritage of specializing in LUBRICANTS

PPC Lubricants provides best-in-class customer service, maintenance and fluid analysis programs that maximizes equipment life and saves you money. In fact, each customer service representative receives industry-specific training on the latest advancements in lubrication technology, including changing equipment and OEM requirements.

at the 1980s and 90s, 4th Generation, John M. Arnold shifted gears once again. John introduced the convenience of fuel terminals where customers could now come and pick up their petroleum products. This was the first time he introduced a specialized lubricants division with only 6 employees. At the turn of the century, John Arnold brought on Dave Klinge as President and made a shift again by starting PPC Lubricants, Inc. For the last eighteen years PPC has added DEF, natural gas, logistics, production facilities.
